Clothing Allowances to Be Paid in Cash or Check

Instructions from the Director of WRA provide that clothing allowances are to be paid in cash or check instead of script and this allowance will be calculated to begin as of July 1, Project Director C. M. Rachford announced today.

Allowances for July, August and September are to be paid as of Nov. 1. Workers and their dependents will be eligible to receive this allowance if they were employed 15 days or more during any one month.

In effect, this was explained as meaning that a person and his dependents will receive the allowance for the three months provided he worked 15 days in either August or September.

Vouchers are being prepared and will be mailed to the Disbursing Office in Denver as rapidly as they can be completed, Rachford announced. Checks will be drawn and returned for distribution to the head of the family. Community enterprises is preparing to take orders or to sell clothing over the counter to recipients of checks.

Provisions are also being made to issue clothing to those in need, but who have not worked the required time, to insure that everyone is prepared for winter. This issue will be made from warehouse stock. Purchases will be made to provide a choice of essential clothing in the warehouse. The cost of this issue will be deducted from future clothing allowances and amounts to an advance on allowance to come.
